About the Course: "Roads? Where we're going we don't need roads." Well, we might need some roads, but we won't need a brick-and-mortar dental office. Join us as we explore the future of dentistry! In this course, we will explore the use of telecommunication in dentistry and mobile dental care. This course will provide the learner with strategies for implementing teledentistry in their practice and exploring mobile dentistry. So jump into this Dental Delorean and explore the future of dentistry.

- The learner will recall specialty care (pathology, orthodontics, periodontics, etc...) applications of telecommunication in dentistry.
- The learner will be able to identify barriers to teledentistry and mobile dentistry and how to address them.
- The learner will be able to dissect their specific state dental practice act for possible limiting verbiage to telecommunication in dentistry.
